Welcome back to Level 2 – or is it a fresh welcome to Level 2 Delta?

As we are now all masked in public, old TV catch phrases such as “it is I, Leclerc” are much more appropriate than they were last year. (For those who weren’t around or never saw ‘Allo ‘Allo during the 80s, Leclerc was a French Resistance operative who was always under cover as a Frenchman in the comedy series set in WWII France.)

COVID is affecting everyone worldwide and our missionaries, wherever they are, face government mandated lockdowns or self-imposed safekeeping methods along with the stresses that these bring into everyday life.

New adversity often brings new opportunity, it can change mind sets and throw different people into our paths. Please take some time to pray this week for our overseas missionaries that their eyes and hearts are open to hearing that God is wanting them to do and be in this time.

While you are doing this, consider also what God may be asking you to do differently.

We need to be praying people of vision and have God lead us into new ways of providing community and outreach because we may never return to the old normal.

During Level 2 Delta.

Because of the limited number of people allowed into our facility and our expectation of a small amount of people attending the service we acknowledge that there is not such a need for door greeters/ help desk/oversight and hospitality.

Please feel to pass if you are rostered on and choose not to come in.

Kevin was once New Zealand's leading researcher for fresh water jelly-fish (yes, Lake Taupo does have jelly-fish!).

Kevin was a volunteer for the NZ wheelchair rugby team.

Kevin is currently exploring the gift of prophecy after God nudged him in that direction.

CAP Update.

After 3 months out of action I am pleased to tell you that I am now in a position to start our CAP work. I am able to work remotely with clients during lockdown so appointments can be booked.

Please encourage anyone who is struggling financially because of debt to make a booking.

You can direct them to this link.

Helen and I am also very grateful for the prayer and practical support many have given during the last 3 months.

Family in action.

Thanks

Tripura

Thank you for praying for the ministerial course at the Tripura Theological College. I (John) was able to meet with the pastors once a week over Zoom, and it was a privilege to hear about some of their challenges that take real courage and strength to face. Thank you for continuing to pray for these pastors.

Andy and Ro S.E.Asia

Please pray as we prepare for our annual appeal next year. In the planning, the creative, the material; please pray that God's leading would be evident.

Ross & Cindy -South Asia.

Please continue to pray for supernatural renewal and refreshment for Ross and Cindy. Pray for God's Holy Spirit to give them daily peace.

Gary & Glenys Sweetman
